BTOP Public Computer Center and Sustainable Broadband
Detailed Budget

Please complete the Detailed Budget, breaking out individual line items under each category heading (add rows to each section as necessary to accomodate your line items). Please ensure line item total columns in the "General" and "Detail" sections are equal for each line item (a ce with a yellow highlight indicates an inconsistency). Also, you may utilize the provided space for additional notes , if desired (there is also a Budget Narrative question in the application in which you w provide narrative detail on this budget).

Specifics needed for each cost category line item:

Personnel: For each position, list the number of positions, the location or geography of position, the job/task responsibilities for the position, the annual salary, and the percent of time a person fil the position will spend working on the proposed BTOP project. For lines with more than one position, the Quarters Employed field should represent number of quarters per person (e.g., fo employees each working for one year, Quarters Employed should be 4 rather than 8).

Fringe: For each position, note the number of positions, the annual salary, the percent of time a perso filling this position will spend working on the proposed BTOP project, and the fringe rate applie the position. For lines with more than one position, the Quarters Employed field should repres number of quarters per person (e.g. for two employees each working for one year, Quarters Employed should be 4 rather than 8).

Equipment: List all equipment units required for the project and provide program purpose. For each l item, note the number of units and the unit cost. The multiple of these two factors will yield th total for that line item. For example, an Applicant planning to buy 100 laptops at $500/laptop v have a total line item cost of $50,000. Again, although unit costs may include cents, once multi by the number of units, the result must be rounded to the nearest whole dollar. Clearly separa Applicant equipment and user equipment, as indicated in the detailed budget template. When providing the unit cost indicate whether the unit cost has been impacted by a discount and for software equipment list specific package names.

Travel: For each trip list the program purpose of the trip, destination city and the number of people traveling. For each line item (e.g., trip), note the number of trips and the cost per trip. The mul of these two factors will yield the total for that line item. For example, if the Applicant was accounting for 10 trips at $25 per trip, the total cost would be $250. The cost per trip should be justified on its own, not derived by dividing the line item total by the number of trips. Such a calculation will prompt further inquiry from the reviewers about justification for the trip cost. Rather, the total trip cost should be derived from the number of trips times the justifiable cost trip.

Supplies: Separate supplies by item type, describing the program purpose or use. For each line item, n the number of units and the nit costs. The multiple of these two factors will yield the total for t line item. For example, an Applicant planning to buy 20 boxes of printer paper at $30/box wou have a total line item cost of $600. Again, although unit costs may include cents, once multiplie the number of units, the result must be rounded to the nearest whole dollar.

Other: Separate item types; for awareness program cost items, such as ads, separate ad types radio, newspaper, etc) and include geography in which they will run.

Contractual: For each line item, identify the contractor and note the number of contracted hours of s and hourly rate, if applicable. For example, an Applicant planning to hire a technology consulta 100 hours at a rate of $40/hour would have a total line item cost of $4,000.

Indirect: Provide the indirect rate and basis used. In the space provided at the bottom of the pa briefly explain the calculation used to derive the indirect costs (including the indirect rate and v is included in the basis). If a negotiated indirect cost rate agreement exists and is being used, p identify the cognizant agency.

The category subtotals for this Detailed Budget should correspond to the data provided in you 424A, and both the SF-424 budget and this Detailed Budget should match the Federal Grant Request and Total Match Amount provided on the Project Budget page of the application. Plea review both budget attachments, the budget narrative in the application, and the Project Budg page for consistency before submitting the application. If you are a submitting a PCC project v an SF-424C instead of an SF-424A, the sections of this Detailed Budget will not align directly wi categories of the SF-424C, but you should complete this Detailed Budget, allocating costs to th appropriate cost categories.

The data provided via this attachment will be subject to automated processing. Applicants are therefore required to provide this attachment as an Excel file, and not to convert it to a PDF pr submitting a copy of their application on an appropriate electronic medium, such as a DVD, CD ROM, or flash drive. Additionally, applicants should not modify the format of this file.

National Telecommunication and Information Administration
Lawrence Strickling, Administrator

Date: February 26, 2010

Dear Mr. Strickling,

The Lima Public Library acknowledges the fact that in order to bring necessary education, job creation, health information, delivery of government services, and a variety of social benefits to our citizens, it is critical that sufficient access to broadband services be widely available.

In addition, the library desires to help the community understand and make full use of these benefits by providing an adequate supply of computers, curriculum to ensure effective use, and a program which will help citizens to adopt broadband as an integral part of their daily lives.

Together with the State Library of Ohio and Connect Ohio, a non-profit public-private partnership established by the Governor of Ohio to promote the benefits and use of broadband, we have assessed the needs of the Lima Public Library to provide these services.

By providing a sufficient supply of modern computers, the State Library of Ohio's Public Access through Libraries project will enable our facilities to offer many of the benefits of broadband to our patrons. A recent survey conducted within our patron base concluded that fewer than 40% of the users at the libraries have broadband at home. This meets the NTIA's definition of underserved population, and it is clear that the access to broadband at the library meets a vital public need.

Further, we want to participate in the delivery of curriculum and training to these patrons, in order to ensure their eventual crossing of the digital divide. Connect Ohio's Adoption through Public Libraries project will enable this by providing training, technical support, public awareness, and a coherent strategy that can be executed statewide. Connect Ohio's application will provide more than 100 new training jobs and produce over 200,000 incremental connected households in Ohio over the next two years, if funded.

We are in full support of these programs and wish to participate as local outlets for learning, use, and adoption of broadband to close the digital divide.

I urge you to consider our community and its needs and to approve the applications made by the State Library of Ohio and by Connect Ohio for this important work.

Sincerely,

Director, CFO

Tom,

Yes, that is correct (your message below). I am willing to bump up our share of the advertising cost to $600.

So in summary:

Ashland Public Library matching total for OPAL I ($9,000) and OPAL II ($4812) = $13,812

OPAL 1: 72 computers requested x $125 = $9,000 APL matching

Grant funds: 72 computers x $475 = $34,200

Total OPAL 1 project = $43,200

OPAL 2: 312 instructor hours x $45 = $14,040

APL matching 30% = $4,212

Grant funds for OPAL II ($14,040 x 70%) = $9,828

Total OPAL 2 for training = $14,040

Advertising (we propose $2000 total for our area of Ohio): APL 30% match = $600

Total APL match for OPAL 2 = $4,812

Total grant funds for OPAL I ($34,200) + OPAL II training ($9,828) = $44,028 + advertising $1400 = $ 45,428

Total APL match for OPAL 1, OPAL 2 and advertising = 9000, 4212, and 600 = $13,812

Total project cost = $57,840 + grant advertising funds of at least $1400 = $59,240

Dear Mr. Strickling,

The Barnesville Hutton Memorial Library acknowledges the fact that in order to bring necessary education, job creation, health information, delivery of government services, and a variety of social benefits to our citizens, it is critical that sufficient access to broadband services be widely available.

In addition, the library desires to help the community understand and make full use of these benefits by providing an adequate supply of computers, curriculum to ensure effective use, and a program which will help citizens to adopt broadband as an integral part of their daily lives.

Together with the State Library of Ohio and Connect Ohio, a non-profit public-private partnership established by the Governor of Ohio to promote the benefits and use of broadband, we have assessed the needs of Barnesville Hutton Memorial Library to provide these services.

By providing a sufficient supply of modern computers, the State Library of Ohio's Public Access through Libraries project will enable our facilities to offer many of the benefits of broadband to our patrons. A recent survey conducted within our patron base concluded that fewer than 40% of the users at the libraries have broadband at home. This meets the NTIA's definition of underserved population, and it is clear that the access to broadband at the library meets a vital public need.

Further, we want to participate in the delivery of curriculum and training to these patrons, in order to ensure their eventual crossing of the digital divide. Connect Ohio's Adoption through Public Libraries project will enable this by providing training, technical support, public awareness, and a coherent strategy that can be executed statewide. Connect Ohio's application will provide more than 100 new training jobs and produce over 200,000 incremental connected households in Ohio over the next two years, if funded.

We are in full support of these programs and wish to participate as local outlets for learning, use, and adoption of broadband to close the digital divide.

I urge you to consider our community and its needs and to approve the applications made by the State Library of Ohio and by Connect Ohio for this important work.

Sincerely,

Katherine L. Koch

Dear Tom:

I am writing this letter to request participation in the ARRA BTOP application.

We would like to request 30 computers through the Public Access through Libraries project and do have the matching funds available that total at least $3750. Fourteen of these computers would be used to create a new computer lab in the main library. 16 computers would be used to increase internet access at the main library and some branches. Distribution of these 16 would be 10 at the Main Library, two at the Bridgeport Branch, two at the Shadyside Branch, one at the Powhatan Point Branch, and one at the Victoria Read Branch in Flushing. These additional computers would create additional computer opportunities with broadband access at these locations. The total grant would total $18000.00 with a local match of $3,750.00 to the federal funds match of $14,250.00.

In addition, we would like to participate in the Connect Ohio's Public Adoption through Libraries project to provide training for those in our area. We request 500 training hours for two years. Using your figure of $45.00/hour for training costs, we compute this cost to be $22,500.00 and can provide a 30% match of $6750.00.

We agree to a match for funds for the public outreach of $1,202.00, over the 2-year grant period, which is 30% of the planned advertising expenditure.

I am attaching the Board Resolution dated February 23, 2010 and my letter to Mr. Strickling. Please let me know if there is anything else I need to do.

Thanks for your work and kind assistance with this project.

Dear Mr. Strickling:

The Cleveland Public Library acknowledges the fact that in order to bring necessary education, job creation, health information, delivery of government services, and a variety of social benefits to our citizens, it is critical that sufficient access to broadband services be widely available.

In addition, the Library desires to help the community understand and make full use of these benefits by providing an adequate supply of computers, curriculum to ensure effective use, and a program which will help citizens to adopt broadband as an integral part of their daily lives.

Together with the State Library of Ohio and Connect Ohio, a non-profit public-private partnership established by the Governor of Ohio to promote the benefits and use of broadband, we have assessed the needs of Cleveland Public Library to provide these services.

By providing a sufficient supply of modern computers, the State Library of Ohio's Public Access through Libraries project will enable our facilities to offer many of the benefits of broadband to our patrons. A recent survey conducted within our patron base concluded that fewer than 40% of the users at the libraries have broadband at home. This meets the NTIA's definition of underserved population, and it is clear that the access to broadband at the library meets a vital public need.

Further, we want to participate in the delivery of curriculum and training to these patrons, in order to ensure their eventual crossing of the digital divide. Connect Ohio's Adoption through Public Libraries project will enable this by providing, training, technical support, public awareness, and a coherent strategy that can be executed statewide. Connect Ohio's application will provide more than 100 new training jobs and produce over 200,000 incremental connected households in Ohio over the next two years, if funded.

Re: OPAL2 Grant

Dear Tom:

I am pleased to lend the support of the Columbus Metropolitan Library to ConnectOhio's grant application for an ARRA Broadband and understand that this grant application component is subset of a collaborative application by the State Library of Ohio and ConnectOhio to cover training, outreach and technical support for technology that expands broadband access.

The Columbus Metropolitan Library is happy to support outreach and training initiatives of this grant application and we understand that our matching commitment is $6200 for an outreach campaign and up to 3,200 hrs in public technology training. Since our library system maintains its own HelpDesk, we do not have a need for technical support.

The Columbus Metropolitan Library (CML) has been a community resource for over 100 years In 2009, the library received over 8 million visitors who logged nearly 2 million computer access sessions and checked out 17 million items. In addition to providing informational resources and community internet access, CML's 21 locations also actively support education and job searching needs through our system's Homework Help and Job Help Centers that operate 52 hours a week. In 2009 over 77,000 residents benefited directly from these library services. These services are vital to the library's mission and as more information has taken on digital formats, we've seen dramatic increases for technology services, including broadband. In 2009, we increased the library's branch network connection to 100 mbps to accommodate the additional demands for internet, wireless and mobile technologies and we know that even after doubling this broadband pipeline for the branch, we are still barely scratching the surface in meeting the technology needs of the Columbus Community.

For this reason, the Columbus Metropolitan Library is happy to support and participate in this joint grant application between ConnectOhio and the State Library of Ohio being filed on behalf of all Ohio public libraries. The need for open access to informational, educational and networked resources are vital to our community and in helping the Library support its vision of a "thriving community where wisdom prevails."

Dear Mr. Strickling,

The Public Library of Cincinnati and Hamilton County acknowledges the fact that in order to bring necessary education, job creation, health information, delivery of government services, and a variety of social benefits to our citizens, it is critical that sufficient access to broadband services be widely available.

In addition, the Library desires to help the community understand and make full use of these benefits by providing an adequate supply of computers, curriculum to ensure effective use, and a program which will help citizens to adopt broadband as an integral part of their daily lives.

Together with the State Library of Ohio and Connect Ohio, a non-profit public-private partnership established by the Governor of Ohio to promote the benefits and use of broadband, we have assessed the needs of the Public Library of Cincinnati and Hamilton County to provide these services. By providing a sufficient supply of modern computers, the State Library of Ohio's Public Access through Libraries project will enable our facilities to offer many of the benefits of broadband to our patrons.

Further, we want to participate in the delivery of curriculum and training to these patrons, in order to ensure their eventual crossing of the digital divide. Connect Ohio's Adoption through Public Libraries project will enable this by providing training, technical support, public awareness, and a coherent strategy that can be executed statewide. Connect Ohio's application will provide more than 100 new training jobs and produce over 200,000 incremental connected households in Ohio over the next two years, if funded.

We are in full support of these programs and wish to participate as local outlets for learning, use, and adoption of broadband to close the digital divide.

I urge you to consider our community and its needs and to approve the applications made by the State Library of Ohio and by Connect Ohio for this important work.

Sincerely,

Subj: Perry Public Library Participation in ARRA Grant Process

The Perry Public Library plans to participate in the statewide grant application to the American Reinvestment and Recovery Act funds designed to increase computing capacity and adoption of broadband across the country.

The Perry Public Library would like to request nineteen (19) computers for its facility and fifty-two (52) training hours over the two year period of the program. The Library also plans to provide funds for the public outreach that qualifies this grant as an outreach to new and incremental patrons.

The Library acknowledges that the grant, if successful, would provide $425 per computer requested and that the Library would be responsible of investing at least $125 per computer for a total of $2,375. The Library would be responsible for 30% of the cost of the training hours requested. The cost of 52 hours at $45 per hour would be $2,340 with the Library's responsibility being $702.

The Library acknowledges that the public outreach is a statewide campaign which will be coordinated by Connect Ohio through a series of public service announcements produced and broadcast on TV, radio, and print. Based on the number of households in its service area, the Perry Public Library would be responsible for a matching amount of $424 over the 2-year grant period, which is 30% of the planned advertising expenditure.

The total financial commitment for the Perry Public Library for the ARRA Grant would be $3,501. The Board of Trustees will be passing a resolution in support of the grant at its March 10, 2010, meeting. On behalf of the Board, I would like to express our commitment to the grant process along with the Library's commitment and ability to participate both financially and cooperatively in this statewide project.

Dear Mr. Strickling,

The Wickliffe Public Library acknowledges the fact that in order to bring necessary education, job creation, health information, delivery of government services, and a variety of social benefits to our citizens, it is critical that sufficient access to broadband services be widely available.

In addition, the library desires to help the community understand and make full use of these benefits by providing an adequate supply of computers, curriculum to ensure effective use, and a program which will help citizens to adopt broadband as an integral part of their daily lives.

Together with the State Library of Ohio and Connect Ohio, a non-profit public-private partnership established by the Governor of Ohio to promote the benefits and use of broadband, we have assessed the needs of the Wickliffe library to provide these services.

By providing a sufficient supply of modern computers, the State Library of Ohio's Public Access through Libraries project will enable our facilities to offer many of the benefits of broadband to our patrons. A recent survey conducted within our patron base concluded that fewer than 40% of the users at the libraries have broadband at home. This meets the NTIA's definition of underserved population, and it is clear that the access to broadband at the library meets a vital public need.

Further, we want to participate in the delivery of curriculum and training to these patrons, in order to ensure their eventual crossing of the digital divide. Connect Ohio's Adoption through Public Libraries project will enable this by providing training, technical support, public awareness, and a coherent strategy that can be executed statewide. Connect Ohio's application will provide more than 100 new training jobs and produce over 200,000 incremental connected households in Ohio over the next two years, if funded.

We are in full support of these programs and wish to participate as local outlets for learning, use, and adoption of broadband to close the digital divide.

I urge you to consider our community and its needs and to approve the applications made by the State Library of Ohio and by Connect Ohio for this important work.

Sincerely,

Thank you for taking the time to speak with me today. Our library has lost over 40% of its staff, and both materials and services have been severely curtailed by the recent budget cuts. I appreciate this opportunity to provide more computer access to our patrons in the future. Below are the necessary changes to the summary letter you sent to me.

At their February 22 meeting, the Hubbard Public Library Board of Trustees passed the following resolution:

Hubbard Public Library will commit at least $1250 for the purchase of ten laptop computers requested for Hubbard Public Library in an ARRA BTOP application being submitted by the State Library of Ohio.

The Board of Trustees will meet again on March 15 and I will recommend the following:

If the Hubbard Public Library hires staff to provide computer training, the Library will provide matching local funds of up to $9.00 per hour for up to 517 training hours over the two year period of the program.

The Hubbard Public Library will provide a matching amount of at least $970.00 for public outreach over the 2-year grant period.

Dear Rachelle,

Please find attached our letter of commitment to participate in the statewide application for ARRA funds. Also attached is our updated version of the spreadsheet you sent yesterday. Connect Ohio's Adoption through Public Libraries project will enable this by providing training, technical support, public awareness, and a coherent strategy that can be executed statewide. Connect Ohio's application will provide more than 100 new training jobs and produce over 200,000 incremental connected households in Ohio over the next two years, if funded.

We are in full support of these programs and wish to participate as local outlets for learning, use, and adoption of broadband to close the digital divide.

I urge you to consider our community and its needs and to approve the applications made by the State Library of Ohio and by Connect Ohio for this important work.

Sincerely,

Date: February 26, 2010

Dear Mr. Strickling:

The Orrville Public Library acknowledges the fact that in order to bring necessary education, job creation, health information, delivery of government services, and a variety of social benefits to our citizens, it is critical that sufficient access to broadband services be widely available.

In addition, the library desires to help the community understand and make full use of these benefits by providing an adequate supply of computers, curriculum to ensure effective use, and a program which will help citizens to adopt broadband as an integral part of their daily lives.

Together with the State Library of Ohio and Connect Ohio, a non-profit public-private partnership established by the Governor of Ohio to promote the benefits and use of broadband, we have assessed the needs of Orrville Public Library to provide these services.

By providing a sufficient supply of modern computers, the State Library of Ohio's Public Access through Libraries project will enable our facilities to offer many of the benefits of broadband to our patrons. A recent survey conducted within our patron base concluded that fewer than 40% of the users at the libraries have broadband at home. This meets the NTIA's definition of underserved population, and it is clear that the access to broadband at the library meets a vital public need.

Further, we want to participate in the delivery of curriculum and training to these patrons, in order to ensure their eventual crossing of the digital divide. Connect Ohio's Adoption through Public Libraries project will enable this by providing training, technical support, public awareness, and a coherent strategy that can be executed statewide. Connect Ohio's application will provide more than 100 new training jobs and produce over 200,000 incremental connected households in Ohio over the next two years, if funded.

We are in full support of these programs and wish to participate as local outlets for learning, use, and adoption of broadband to close the digital divide.

I urge you to consider our community and its needs to approve the applications made by the State Library of Ohio and by Connect Ohio for this important work.

Sincerely,
